The Laurels Recovery Center

Program Components

The Laurels Recovery Center operates two regional residential programs:

The Laurels is a two phase program that includes medically supervised detox and stabilization services in Phase I and short term residential treatment and rehabilitation services in Phase II.

The Laurels Residential Recovery is a crisis stabilization unit. The program provides an integrated and comprehensive community based continuum of residential care that includes medically supervised detox and stabilization services, counseling and educational services, crisis stabilization services, medication services, and peer recovery support services.

Both programs are licensed to accept individuals on a voluntary basis, on an involuntary basis via a Temporary Detention Order (TDO), and on voluntary and involuntary commitment orders.

Philosophy

The Laurels Recovery Center recognizes and understands that substance use, mental health, and co-occurring disorders affect many facets of an individual's life. The Laurels Recovery Center's philosophy is that all individuals struggling with substance use, mental health, or co-occurring disorders and related issues have the ability to recover. This philosophy promotes services that are recovery focused, person centered, strengths based, community based, accessible, and cost and outcome effective

Program Goal

To ensure risk reduction for individuals struggling with substance use, mental health, or co-occurring disorders while providing treatment and support options and resources that foster an individual's physical, emotional, spiritual, and family's well-being.
