Cumberland Mountain Community Services Announces "SWVA Community Connections" event series for May Mental Health Awareness Month

Exploring Local Opportunities for Promoting Mental Wellness

CEDAR BLUFF, VA Since 1949, Mental Health Awareness Month has been observed across the US to promote wellness, educate communities, reduce stigma, and bring attention to the millions of people affected by mental illness. In observance of Mental Health Awareness Month, Cumberland Mountain Community Services and its community partners in Buchanan, Russell, and Tazewell Counties are excited to announce "SWVA Community Connections," a series of events throughout the month of May to identify and explore local opportunities for promoting mental wellness through:

- Social Connection
- Outdoor Natural Recreation
- Nutrition & Healthy Living

All events are completely free and open to everyone. At each event, a prevention staff member will be available to connect participants to mental health resources and offer information on services provided by Cumberland Mountain Community Services.
